THE KETOGENIC DIET GUIDE

What is the Ketogenic Diet?

Historically, the Ketogenic diet was discovered as early as 20th century and was (yet still is) an effective solution for individuals suffering from epilepsy. In the early times, bodybuilders used to apply it without actually knowing the mechanisms behind it through doing a “fish and water” diet. Additionally it is the diet that humans historically adhered to naturally before processed sugars became so readily available.

Till date, the Ketogenic Diet has maintained its status of effectiveness and of course gaining wider attention among people looking to lose weight faster. The Ketogenic diet is a low-carb, high-fat diet that causes weight loss and provides health benefits. It involves significantly reducing carbohydrate intake while increasing protein to the levels necessary to maintain muscle mass with the calorie ratios approximating 70 percent fat, 25 percent protein and 5 low-glycemic carbohydrates.

How Does the Ketogenic Diet Works?

Attaining ketosis is pretty straightforward; however, it can seem difficult and confusing with all of the information out there. The general dietary guidelines of the Ketogenic Diet involve avoidance of high carbohydrate foods such as bread, pasta, potatoes, rice etc. as well as all simple carbohydrates such as sugar, honey and fruit juice.

Protein is included in every meal as this helps to reduce appetite, regulate blood glucose levels and preserve lean muscle mass. Examples of protein foods are fish, chicken, turkey, meat, eggs and cheese. Protein drinks such as whey protein isolate may be utilized.

Adequate fat intake is essential as this enhances fat burning by the body while reducing the synthesis of fatty acids in the body which both promote fat loss. Optimal sources of fats are fatty meats, fish, avocado, olive oil, nuts and seeds.

There are numerous benefits that come with being on Ketogenic Diet: from weight loss and increased energy levels to therapeutic medical applications.

Most anyone can safely benefit from eating a low-carb, high-fat diet.

FOODS TO EAT

- Vegetables (excluding starchy vegetables)
- Leafy Greens
- Meat (Beef, Lamb, Poultry, Eggs and Fish)
- High Fat Dairy (Hard Cheeses, High Fat Cream, Butter, etc)
- Nuts & Seeds (Macadamias, Walnuts, Sunflower seeds, etc)
- Oil & Fats (Coconut Oil, Olive Oil, Avocado Oil, Bacon Fat)
- Sweeteners (Stevia, Erythritol, Monk fruit, etc)

FOODS TO AVOID

- Grains (Wheat, Corn, Rice, Cereal, etc)
- Fruits
- Starchy Vegetables (Sweet Potatoes and Squashes)
- Sugars (Honey, Agave, Maple Syrup, etc)

EATING OUT WHILE ON A KETOGENIC DIET

Committing to a ketogenic diet doesn't mean you will never be able to attend social events or dine out again. When you switch to this type of diet you have to make sure that it fits into your lifestyle. Although going out every night of the week is not recommended, going out once in a while will be healthy for you if it's something you really enjoy.

It's a matter of making the right choices. Look for dishes that are nice and simple with no potential hidden ingredients. If you can't find anything on the menu that is ketogenic approved below are some examples of things you can order separately

Most of the restaurants will have all of these foods in the kitchen even if it's not written exactly like that on the menu. Don't be shy to ask for something a little different. When it comes to your health it's always worth it.

What is the Keto Flu?

The Keto flu, which is otherwise known as ‘carb flu’ by many is used to describe the flu-like reactions that often follow the commencement of a ketogenic diet. It happens as a result of the sudden and drastic removal of carbs from your diet.

One of the major reasons you get this flu is as a result of insufficient electrolyte in your diet. These electrolytes include calcium, sodium, potassium, and magnesium. When you made the diet switch, you also cut down on the richest electrolyte sources such as starchy fruits and vegetables which may result in the different symptoms you experience.

The Keto flu usually doesn't take long; a week or less for an average person. But it can also last as long as two to four weeks in some individual. How long the keto-flu will last often depends on some factors.

If your diet has always been high in processed foods and refined sugar, it's more likely you have more experience of the symptoms. And this can also depend on the genetic make-up of the individual as some people tend to be more metabolically flexible making it easier for them to shift between diets.

Keto flu symptoms may be very undesirable, yet it's worth it. Don't allow it stop you from getting all the health benefits embedded in the ketogenic diet, so do everything you can to make sure you don't go out of ketosis.

GROCERY LISTS.

GROCERY SHOPPING TIPS

The grocery lists are as precise as possible and here are a few tips:

1. Ingredients like coconut oil, olive oil and grass fed butter are only on the first week's grocery list because they are used daily so be aware if you run out you will need to re-purchase these.
2. Ingredients like Almond Butter, Coconut Aminos, Almond Flour, Chia Seeds and baking ingredients are listed in the grocery lists usually as a few tablespoons but I highly recommend to buy these in bulk and check if you already have them in your pantry before heading to the store.
3. The vegetables are sometimes rounded off, for example when you need two cups of broccoli in a recipe you will only be able to purchase a full head. In this case I encourage you to use the extra vegetables in other meals or for snacking.
4. There are also recipes with protein powder as an ingredient. Protein powders can be bought by the serving or in a big container. I recommend going to the container if it is something you plan on using past the 28 Day Meal Plan. If not then finding single servings may be best.
5. Many of these recipes call for fresh herbs like cilantro and basil. To save money I recommend getting these two herbs as a small plant. They are very easy to maintain and don't cost much.
6. Lastly, always check the fridge and pantry before you head out to the grocery store with your list to make sure there are no left overs.
